

Jokaisella suurkaupungilla on legendaariset kohtaamispaikkansa, joissa kunkin aikakauden edelläkävijät ovat määrittäneet ajan hengen. Jo 1960-luvun Helsingissä Marski oli tällainen paikka.

Marskin baari tarjoaa nyt uusille sukupolville sen, mitä legendaarinen, vain jäsenille suunnattu M-klubi tai lehdistön oma Pressiklubi tarjosи aikalaisilleen – paikan, jossa luovuuus, ajatuksenvaihto ja elämännautinto pääsevät valloilleen.

Tänä päivänä vastuullisuus on läsnä Marskin Baarissa ja se näkyy myös drinkkilaseissamme: raaka-aineet ovat mahdollisuksien mukaan lähituotettuja ja teemme tiiviisti yhteistyötä valikoitujen kotimaisten tuottajien kanssa. Tavoitteemamme on minimoida hävikkiä ja hyödynnämme keittiön raaka-aineet aina viimeistä pisaraa myöten. Keitämme esimerkiksi yli jäätelöstä marjoista maistuvaa siirappia cocktailien pohjaksi.

Every metropolis has had its legendary meeting places where trailblazers set the zeitgeist in each era. Marski was such a place in the Helsinki of the 1960s.

Today, the Marski Bar offers a new generation of people what the legendary restaurants, the members-only M-klubi or the press's own Pressiklubi, offered in their time – a place where creativity, the exchange of ideas, and a life of pleasure can be unleashed.

Sustainability is present in the Marski Bar today, and this also extends to the drinks we serve: whenever possible, we use locally sourced ingredients and work closely with selected Finnish producers. Our goal is to minimize waste by always using ingredients by the restaurant kitchen down to the last drop. For example, we use left-over berries to boil down to a tasty syrup, which we use as a base for cocktails.

There's one big question every summer: will the strawberries be ripe by Midsummer? When they are, we buy them by the crate, eat them fresh, or freeze them for winter. Many childhood memories are made in strawberry fields — knees in the dirt, back aching, sun on your face, and sweet reward in every bite.
